What's App!

WhatsApp is an app that appears to be used more and more to communicate amongst children. It's important to be careful when using this app, especially considering that the legal age for using the app is 16.

- Children might get added to group chats without their parents knowing, which could lead to seeing things they shouldn't.
- It can be tough for parents to keep track of what's happening in those groups, making it hard for them to help if things go wrong.
- Sharing pictures is easy, but children need to be careful about what they send, as it could end up in the wrong hands.
- The app doesn't have strong privacy settings, so people they don't know could try to contact them, which isn't safe.
- Remind children that once they send a message, it can be shared with others, and they should think before hitting 'send'.
- Talking about these things can help everyone stay safe while having fun online!
